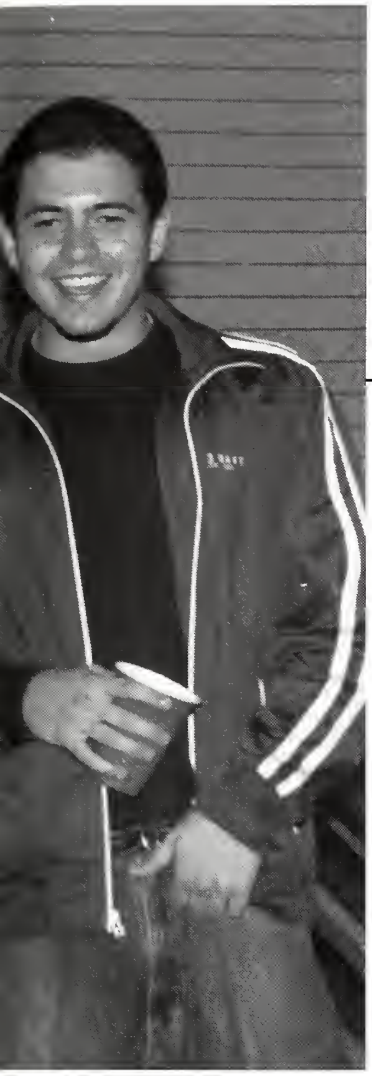
S.H.O.W.
Spring Hill Orientation Weekend



Center: Orientation Leaders Drew Crooke, Robbie Beckman, and Andres Garganta perform an educational skit during one of the more entertaing parts of Orientation Weekend.

"Back to school, back to school, to show Dad I'm no Fool" (Billy Madison). Well kiddies the fun of high school is over. Well, not completely, but that's a topic for a different time.

With a fresh start and more responsibility, freshmen need a little help knowing how to get around and what is expected from them. This is where we see the students, faculty and staff at their finest. From helping the youngin's move in to letting them know what academically is expected of them, all is covered in this three day event that kicks off the new school year.

Alot of hard work and dedication goes in to planning and co-ordinating this event. This year we can thank Maggie Glen and Paul Scalici, co-student coordinators, for an exceptional succes to S.H.O.W. ". I felt as if they were excellent in providing my family and I with correct and quick answers to all of my questions" said freshmen Jorge "Nunu" Medina. The process actually begins in the spring of the previous year and is a summer long project. All of that hard work comes down to three days!

Opposite Page: Wow! How am I going to put all of my stuff in that dorm room? That's the main riddle that new freshmen have to solve when they first arrive on campus.

Above: Residence Life Staff as well as Admissions Counselors are readily available as new students check into their designated dorms for the first time.

Left: Fr. Gregory Lucey, S.J. congratulates freshmen as they are received into the Spring Hill "family".

Mass Of The Holy Spirit

Above: Farther David Borbridge, S.J. gives communion during the Mass of the Holy Spirit.

Every year the Spring Hill College community gathers together at the start of the academic school year to celebrate the Mass of the Holy Spirit. The purpose for this mass is to unite in prayer in order to ask for wisdom for the upcoming academic year. All of the Jesuits in the community attend this mass and it is encouraged that all attend regardless of their religious denomination. It is one of the events that nurtures Mind, Body, and Spirit. It is one of the events that is thoroughly enjoyed by all at the "Hill."

Center: All of the 14 Jesuits on campus help in celebratingThe Mass of the Holy Spirit.

Family Weekend

So, the parents are coming into town? Quick hide all the .... Oh yeah! that means we might get some money too! At the very least we should able to get them for a couple of good meals. Well, not all of Family Weekend is like this, we do miss the old guys. The little guys too! Since a good majority of Spring Hill students do not have the option of going home very often this weekend brings a little bit of home to us. With different activites ranging from socials to religious gatherings, it is a time to have some "quality time" with the people you know and love. The other cool part is that you get to meet all your friends' parents and they get to meet your parents. Some parents even attended Spring Hill together back in the day and now another generation of two families are meeting and having the "Spring Hill Experience" all over again.

Cajun Fest

The tradition of good Cajun food and fun is alive and well on Spring Hill's Campus. The two-day event sponsored by the Campus Programming Board brought some pre-finals fun to the campus community. Students enjoyed making free crafts on Thursday night. Nearly 500 tie dye t-shirts were made in the span of 4 hours! Not to mention the countless candles and bead necklaces that were created. On Friday the festivities included wax hands and spray paint art. The thing that most people will remember is, of course, the CRAWFISH! The delicious little crustaceans were devoured by the campus community. People came in droves to eat until their hearts were content. In true Cajun style no one went away hungry.

Christmas On The Hill

Although what most people see is one night of fun and games, Chritmas on the Hill is much more than that. It is a year long project taken on by the Spring Hill Community to help its surrounding neighbors and make the city of Mobile a "better place." In conjunction with Catholic Social Services every Spring Hill group whether it be a residence hall, office, or an organization adopt a family to help. Planning starts at the beginning of the fall semester and work is done throughout especially during Thanksgiving and Christmas. Articles the families are in need of are collected from the community and given to each family. The celebration is a culmunation of all the hard work put into the project. Junior Tara Reid said: "It's cool to be able to bring the families on campus and celebrate the spirit of Christmas with them. It adds another dimension to the effort when you get to know who you're helping personally." In the spring, most groups periodically check up on their family to see how they are doing and if they can help in any way. This program lets everyone involved grow spiritually.

Mardi Gras

General madness overtakes Mobile annually in the weeks and days preeeding Ash Wednesday as chants of "Moon Pie! Moon Pie!" and "Throw me something, Mister!" fill the air. So we at Spring Hill College have also decided to partake in these activities. Events that we at the Hill participate in are Mardi Gras Court Coronation at halftime of one of our Men's Basketball games, a Parade on Saturday morning where the whole community is invited, and lastly a Mardi Gras Ball. All three events have become traditions that SHC students love to attend. The ball alone had over 500 students in attendance this year. Luckily we at the Hill can thank the Campus Programming Board for all its effort into making Mardi Gras a memorable experience for the whole community.

Mardi Gras Ball

This year's Mardi Gras Ball was held at Russo's, a very neat seafood restaurant in downtown Mobile. One would have to admit that it was not a traditional location for a ball. But Campus Programming Board did a fantastic job choosing the location based on the needs and wants of the SHC students. Attendance at this event was a record! Over 50% of the students attended the event, which is unheard-of at any school regardless of size. Students commented on the excellent food that was served and the ease of which one could choose the setting in which they felt most comfortable. Fr. Sauer introduced the King, Christopher of the House of Flanagan and his Queen, Shannon of the House of Barnes on the dance floor accompanied by their Royal Court. The Campus Programming Board provided two forms of entertainment to ensure that the party never died down. Groove Addiction, a veteran band for Spring Hill events, provided the live atmosphere while Mobile DJ Enterprise owned by SHC students, Sean Petri and Chip Gardner, kept the party going while promoting their new DJ company. The Ball was a wonderful way to end a successful Mardi Gras Week. This year's ball has set the bar high for all those of the future by making it the best event of the year!

Delta Delta Delta

Delta Delta Delta is an organization filled with women dedicated to sisterhood, high moral standards, academic achievement and philanthropic endeavors. Tri Delta, one of the largest national sororities, made its way to Spring Hill's campus in 1985.

The Tri Deltas at Spring Hill are a group of well-rounded individuals who are involved in many activities across the campus. One activity that helps bond the sisters is their involvement with their philanthropy: St. Jude's Children's Hospital. In October, they raised over $1,300 for the children with a "Spaghetti Supper." Although the focus of the dinner was to raise money, these girls still had fun whipping up a delicious dinner and serving it up for all to enjoy! St. Mary's Home, a shelter for abused and neglected children is their local charity and the Deltas help tutor and mentor kids at the shelter.

On the social side of things the Deltas came away with a victory at this years Mardi Gras Parade as well as placing two members on the court. Other activities that the chapter had were: "Party Like A Rock Star" and "All Tied Up."

Delta Gamma

April 22, 2002 marked the one-year anniversary of the installation of the Eta Eta chapter of Delta Gamma! Since last April, the chapter has grown quickly. The Eta Eta ladies have been busy with many activities, from social to philanthropic, as they learn more about Fraternity and each other.

In October, DG members traveled together to Jackson, Ms. to view the "Art of the Eye" exhibit. "Art of the Eye" is a Delta Gamma traveling art show that showcases work by visually impaired artists, to promote Delta Gamma's philanthropy, Service for Sight. The next month Eta Eta enjoyed their first semi-formal, closed party at Magnolia Manor. The sisters and their dates entered the party to the tune "Anchors Aweigh," the theme of the party. During Finals week, Delta Gamma girls held "the most beautiful eyes" contest, which raised money for Service for Sight when members of the student body voted who had the most beautiful eyes on Spring Hill's campus.

During the Spring Semester, Delta Gamma was involved in ladie's recruitment week, the Anchor Ball which is Eta Eta's formal dinner and dance, and Anchor Splash, a Service for Sight fundraising event. This event involves swimming pool relays and is scheduled to be held again this Fall. Delta Gamma was an active supporter of the Sigma Chi Derby Days week. Derby Daddy Kirt Yant was pround to announce DG member Kellye Kneipp as the 2002 Sigma Chi Derby Queen. Kellye was selected by members of the fraternity as well as faculty.

Alpha Kappa Alpha

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. was the very first African-American sorority founded on the campus of Howard University in 1908. There are over 333 undergraduate chapters and 541 graduate chapters throughout the United States, the Caribbean, Europe, Asia and Africa. Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority, Inc. was introduced to Spring Hill College in 1992 to expand the excellence and elegance as Pi Rho chapter. The purpose of Alpha Kappa Alpha is to cultivate and encourage high scholastic and ethical standards, to promote unity and friendship among college women, to study and help elevate problems among girls and women in order to improve social stature, to maintain a progressive interest in college life, and to be of service to all mankind. As the four current members of Pi Rho blaze the campus with their sophistication, style, beauty, energy and intellect, they pride themselves in their high scholastic abilities and leadership skills. Keeping the past in mind, they look toward the future to "blazing new trails" into a brighter future. These lovely ladies are: Shannon Barnes, Patrice Encalarde, Khrysten Encalarde, and Rhonda Ahmaad.

Phi Mu

The Theta Delta Chapter is celebrating its fifteenth year at Spring Hill College. Founded in 1987, the Theta Delta Chapter currently has seventy-three active members. Phi Mu prides itself on its diversity with its members branching out through a variety of organizations within the campus community. Phi Mu currently maintains the highest grade point average on campus, while at the same time serving in a large portion of on-campus leadership roles.

As a whole the Theta Delta Chapter continues to work hard for its national philanthropy, the Children's Miracle Network. One hundred percent of all money raised stays in the local community to help hometown hospitals for children with patient care, equipment and research. Locally all money raised by the Theta Delta Chapter goes directly to the University of South Alabama's Women's and Children's Hospital (a CMN affiliate). This year alone, the Theta Delta Chapter has raised an astounding $4,500 for USA Women's and Children's Hospital.

As a reward for all of their hard work, the Phi Mu's at Spring Hill also participate in a variety of social functions, from the all campus Luau to their ever popular CRUSH party. No matter what they are doing, the Phi Mu's continue to uphold the principles of their sorority, love, honor and truth, all in their ongoing effort to encourage individual leadership along with personal and social development for all of its members.

Kappa Theta

Kappa Theta is the oldest fraternity on Spring Hill College's campus. The Kappas originated in 1957 and are a tradition at Spring Hill. The men of Kappa Theta pride themselves on being part of the local fraternities. The members dedicate themselves to four ideals: fraternal, intellectual, spiritual, and social. It is these ideals that form a solid foundation for their members. Kappa Theta consists of members who strive to be better individuals and who have a strong commitment to the old traditions of the fraternity. The fraternity holds numerous social events, among them Kappa Koktails and Kappa St. Patti's Day party. The fraternity's philanthropy this year was titled, "Life's a Snap" and was operated in coordination with several New Orlean's Saints players. The brothers took part in raising money by selling raffle tickets, with the grand prize being two tickets to this year's Super Bowl, held in New Orleans. The event benefited children born with Crouzon Syndrome, a birth defect, as well as the NFL YET Center, which assists unfortunate children. The event was a success, with over 600 tickets sold and $3,000 raised. The fraternity members possess close friendships and even though 5 members graduate this year, the memories and experiences that all the brothers have will last a lifetime.

Psi Gamma

In 1998 Psi Gamma's first pledges ran down the steps of Quinlan Quad. The first seven active members of Psi Gamma belonged to the Alpha Delta Gamma fraternal order. Today Psi Gamma Members embrace many of the same idcals and traditions associated with the fraternity's celebrated and historic past. The spirit of Psi Gamma is based on the five pillars of success: spiritual, scholastic, service, school spirit and social. The guys are well-known around campus for their 70's party which is held each spring semester.

Sigma Chi

On June 28, 1855 the Sigma Chi Fraternity was founded by 7 men of high ideals and noble purposes at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. Sigma Chi is one of the largest and most respected international fraternities in the world. The fundamental purpose of the Sigma Chi Fraternity is the cultivation, maintenance and accomplishment of the ideals of friendship, justice and learning within our membership.

The Theta Mu Chapter at Spring Hill College received its charter on May 12, 1984. The chapter currently has twenty-nine active brothers including the six new members. The brothers of Sigma Chi are very active on our campus. They may be found on the Soccer team, Golf team, Tennis team, Cross Country team, Lacrosse club, Rugby club and Student Government Association, just to name a few.

During the fall semester, the brothers of Sigma Chi participated in numerous activities both on and off campus. These activities included: a weekend at the beach, white water rafting trip, service work, annual Fall Party entitled, "Havin' a Good Time" and numerous other social events for brothers and dates.

The spring semester once again served to be action-packed for brothers and pledges. The chapter's Bid Night was a huge success since 6 young, dynamic men who accepted bids were initiated later in the semester. Derby Days is an exciting, week-long event which the entire campus participates in since it benefits the chapter's philanthropy, the Children's Miracle Network. With Kirt Yant as Derby-Daddy and the addition of the all-girls GDI team, Derby Days was more exciting than ever, and this year the chapter raised over six thousand dollars for needy children.

TKE

In the past year, the Upsilon Alpha Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon at Spring Hill College has had one of its most successful years yet. The president of the chapter, Frater Rob Ruffino, aided in its growth and development during the 2001-2002 school year. This past year, the chapter has hosted several successful social events including their fall Coyote Ugly party, and TKE Week. TKE also aided in many philanthropically causes as well. They hosted their annual sorority auction during TKE Week, raising money for sorority's philanthropies. Tau Kappa Epsilon also donated money and participated in Christmas on the Hill, and had a team participate in Up 'til Dawn. Along with being active within the chapter the members of TKE were also active in the Spring Hill community as orientation leaders, seminar leaders, members of Student Government Association, resident assistants, and in many other clubs and organizations. Bid Night was a huge success, for the fourth year in a row; the Upsilon Alpha chapter took the most rushees with 13 accepting bids and being initiated six weeks later into Tau Kappa Epsilon. The Upsilon Alpha Chapter now totals 46 active members making it Spring Hill College's largest fraternity. The Tekes had a great school year this year and are looking forward to many more great years to come!

Multi-Cultural Student Union

The Multicultural Student Union is an organization that is dedicated to increasing diversity on campus, encouraging multicultural student awareness and participation in college life, and fostering and contributing to the intellectual and cultural life of the campus. It consists of approximately 40 members of many different cultural backgrounds. MSU meets once a week to discuss the similarities and differences of different aspects of society, does community service once a month, and actively participates in the life of the campus. Some of our biggest events include Taste of the Hill, The Mobile International Festival, Diversity Conference, Halloween Carnival, Up 'Til Dawn, and Unity Week.

Circkle K

The Spring Hill chapter of Circle K International proved to "find a need and fill it" this year in more ways than one. An enthusiastic group of thirty members spent countless hours serving the community this year and just having fun. One of the major projects this year was Pantry Raid, a tradition with SHC Circle K, where bags of food are picked up to benefit the residents of Penelope House, a shelter for victims of domestic violence. Over 1,500 pounds of food were raised for the shelter. Students also volunteered at the shelter every Thursday night by assisting with art projects for the children and planning holiday activities such as Halloween parties.

A major new project this year was Operation Carry-On , a drive for suitcases and school supplies to benefit the children of St. Mary's and Wilmer Hall. The annual carnation sale for Valentine's Day and doughnut sales also proved to be a success. Between going bowling, traveling to conventions, and volunteering at nursing homes, Circle K members engaged in a variety of activities promoting service, leadership, and fellowship. Circle K looks forward to being a driving force of "students who are responsible citizens and leaders with a lifelong commitment to community service worldwide"- (Circle K Mission Statement).

Campus Programming Board

Dressed in their obnoxious colored T-shirts you can see the Campus Programming Board coming from a mile away. This year brought a new face to CPB lead by Co-Chairs, Heather Backes and Terri Waywell. The motto "Making Things Happen" was not just a catchy phrase on a T-shirt, but a fundamental practice for the organization. The group strived to bring a variety of activities and programs to the students of SHC. The year's calendar of events was packed with fun filled activities for the whole campus to participate. The line up included the Spring Hill traditions of Oktoberfest , Fall Formal, Mardi Gras Week and Cajun Fest. In addition, the CPB added Welcome Week, a comedian, hypnotist, Vegas Night, Bingo Nights, Survivor Challenges, giveaways, Cloister Nights, and much more. The CPB stayed true to their word and made things happen for the students of SHC.

Lacrosse Club

The past year for the Lacrosse Club was one of rebuilding an unexpected success. The loss of many seniors from last year's team made it hard for the lacrosse club to continue its winning tradition. With the help of a superb freshman class and the hard work and dedication of the veteran players, the team was able to continue its winning ways. The offense was spearheaded by Junior Alejo Marugan and Senior Charles Sokolash, who combined netted 23 goals this year. Both members were named first-team All-Conference. Player-Coach Nick Fitzpatric, whose hard work and dedication to the program was rewarded with an All-Conference nomination, captained Spring Hill's gritty midfield. Senior Mike Bullion and Red Shirt Junior Dominic Gianino were menacing for opposing attackers, while freshman goalie Nick McGinn was stifling between the pipes.

Senior leadership from savvy veterans Kirt Yant and Guy Hunter combined with newcomers John Morrison and Patrick Busby, allowed the team to finish with an impressive 8-2 record, tying for first in their division. Next year's squad faces high expectations; anything less than a league championship will be a disappointment.

TROUBADOURS

The Troubadors is a group of students from Spring Hill College in Mobile, Alabama, who unite each year during the season of Lent to present The Pasion of Christ to the Christian communities in the southern United States. Through their theatrical ministry, these students devote themselves to creating a unique spiritual encounter for their many audiences. It is their mission to make the sufferings of Christ and the joys of Easter more deeply understood and appreciated through their interpretation of Christ's journey to Calvary.

WOMEN'S SOCCER

Beginning the year with eleven games in a row in which they alternated between a loss and a win, the Ladies finally were able to win more than one game in a row, winning three. The bad thing is that those were the last wins of the season. They ended the year with 5 losses in a row. The best result of the year was that they were able to qualify for their first ever trip to the NAIA Region 13 post-season play-offs. The Badgers finished the year with a record of 8-11.

Leading the Badgers were Rocio Aleman with 9 goals and 4 assists, Erica Strachan with 6 goals and 2 assists, Rebecca Lee with 5 goals and 2 assists, and Christine Arnesen who had 126 saves and a save percentage of .764 in goal for the Badgers. Coaching the Women's Team was John Mollaghan, who finished his second year as head coach with a record of 16-19-1. Also helping out the team were assistants Adrian Capote and Dr. Steve Wilson.

MEN'S SOCCER

The Badgers had finished the season with their first ever win in the post-season playoffs. They ended with a record of 8-9. Leading the team were Jeremy Poklemba, Drew Gallant, Mauro Grignola, Pablo Juarez, and Greg Schinker. Poklemba had 12 goals and 9 assists for the year. Drew Gallant finished with 2 goals and 4 assists. Mauro Grignola had 4 goals, while Pablo Juarez had 2 goals and 2 assists. Greg Schinker was in goal for the Badgers for the whole season. He had 131 total saves and a save percentage of .757. Head Coach John Mollaghan, finishing his 2nd year with a record of 15-16-1, led the Badgers. Also helping out the men were assistants Adrian Capote and Dr. Steve Wilson.

VOLLEYBALL

2001 was labeled "Revival of Volleyball" at Spring Hill College. Practice started in August and the team was unsure of what to expect of the season. Ask any of the players, and they will tell you the first practices were pretty scary!! However, it did not take long for the girls to come together and start playing good volleyball. The team hit the court on September 4th and took many people by surprise. No one expected this first year team to be able to compete the way it did. Although they dropped the first match of the season, they did not let that get them down. They rebounded by winning the next four matches to win the Spring Hill Tournament.

The rest of the season was like a roller coaster. They were up and down. They had good times and bad. Through it all they learned MANY lessons that would help the team grow in the future. The team ended the season 18-19, finishing second in the GCAC and advancing to the region tournament. Going into the regionals, the team knew they had a chance to go to the "Big Show." It was not out of the reach. Unfortunately, things did not go the Badgers way. They were young, inexperienced and were not ready to move to the next level. Again, they did learn what would be needed to get there next year.

SOFTBALL

Entering the 5th season of softball at Spring Hill College, the Badgers were looking to improve on their just above .500 record of a year ago and return to the glory days of the 1999 NAIA 3rd place team. The Badgers finished the year with a overall record of 25-13, which was highlighted with seven doubleheader sweeps and a trip to the NAIA Southeast Sectional Tournament. With a team of 17 players, 9 of them being Freshmen, the team was fairly young. Yet, they showed that they could compete when the time came. Leading the team at the plate were Courtney Rey, Alison Sellers, and Monica DeSilva. On defense, the leaders were Courtney Rey, Rene'e Hurley, Valerie Ricketts, and Amy Daigle. The leading pitchers were Valerie Ricketts, Aracely Rodriguez, and Kristin Kuhnkey. The Badgers were lead by Head Coach Coby Mackin and assistant Sunny Russ.

Women's Golf

The 2001 Lady Badgers were comprimised by Freshmen Blaire Bartlett, Sarah Blaske and Erin Illg joined Sophomores Brandy Ghioto, Jillian Lomax and Anne Rotermund, Juniors Amy Ankerson and Leigh Buhring, and red-shirted senior Stephanie Gifford. They blew away the competition with a 23-stroke lead after the two-day tournament at their initial tournament win. In October, the ladies traveled to Florida and finished fourth at the tournament. Spring break brought the opportunity for the team to go to Rome, Georgia. After only one day of play, due to weather, the Lady Badgers were in third place. The NAIA National tournament was held in mid-May in West Palm Coast, Florida. The lady Badgers received a bid to play at the tournament based upon their long and prosperous history of victories at the Nationals. After a windy four-day tournament, the ladies placed fifteenth out of twenty-three teams. All in all, the Lady Badgers had a short, but successful season.

SWIMMING

In the first year ever of swimming at Spring Hill College, the team was small, but showed a lot in competition that they will be a factor in the years to come. With a roster of four guys and six ladies, the team was small but full of enthusiasm. For the year, the men had a dual record of 1-5, winning in their first dual meet ever at LaGrange College (GA). The men also finished in 5th place at the NSISL Conference Championships and 13th place at the NAIA National Championships. As for the women, they finished the year with a dual record of 4-3. They also won in their first dual meet ever at LaGrange. In the Conference Championships, they finished in 5th place, and at NAIA Nationals, they were 10th place overall.

Leading the young team was John Hartman, a long time swimmer and swim coach. The top swimmers on the team were Anna Deason, who established four individual event records, Jenny Daly, who also established four individual event records, Ryan Wattam, establishing two event records, and Chris Hoffman, establishing four event records. In the years to come, look for swimming at Spring Hill to go straight to the top.

In Memoriam

Benjamin Lengo

Benjamin Lenjo, a native of Kenya, graced Spring Hill College with his presence for only a short while. His warm essence and charming smile will never be forgotten. Ben was a student in the graduate program for the fall of 2002. Although his stay was not long, he left a lasting impression upon those that he spoke with. Benjamin showed great respect and knowledge about the American Culture, but never forgot his native country. To those that were close to him, Ben was a personable, funny, and honorable man. Not only will he be remembered for these things but also his "famous" khaki bucket hat.

In Memoriam

Denise Cowan

Denise Cowan was born on November 26, 1980 in Clarke County Alabama. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Authur Cowan. She graduated from Coffeeville high school where she was valedictorian in May 1999. Denise enrolled in Spring Hill College in the fall of 1999. While at SHC, she was majoring in Elementary Education. She was an active after school tutor at Brazier Elementary School, and she was also a member of Spring Hill College's cheerleading squad. She was in National Guard Reserved. Denise was more than just a student here at Spring Hill; she was also a friend to many. She is and will be greatly missed.
